years, continuation of the present method of electing state constitutional officers and judges, continuation of the 10 per cent limit on interest, and preservation of the state's right-to-work law.

These were positions contained in a resolution adopted by the delegates that they will work for in the constitutional convention.

Earlier Tuesday, Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., told the farmers to expect no great changes or upheavals in the first year or two of the administration of President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Pryor said it was too early to tell how Nixon or any of his cabinet members would feel about agricultural problems such as price supports, surpluses, acreage and allotment problems.

Pryor said the nation must stem the tide of migration from rural areas to the cities, even if it means enactment of tax incentives for businesses that will stay or locate in rural America.

Allan Grant, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, told the convention of the part his organization played in fighting the recent boycott of table grapes.

He warned that boycotts would spread to other commodities and that farmers must make plans on how to fight them.

"Luedke could have had access to physical inventories, location of bases," said a senior U.S. official.

the end of the week.

But they said the next two to three weeks will be devoted to settling preliminary—and possibly troublesome—problems of seating arrangements and agenda.

Although the four sides—Hanoi, Saigon, the United States and the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong—presumably will be holding joint sessions to work out the preliminaries, U.S. officials said these matters must be settled before "direct and serious negotiations" on ending the war can start.

President Johnson, in Texas for the Thanksgiving holiday, hailed the Saigon agreement as a "new and hopeful phase in the negotiations" which began last May between the United States and Hanoi.

But, he cautioned, "we must expect both hard bargaining and hard fighting in the days ahead."

In Saigon, President Thieu, who had demanded a leadership role in the talks and had objected to dealing directly with the NLF, said South Vietnam's sovereignty had been respected.

The United States spelled out in detail its assurances to South Vietnam in an 850-word statement saying Saigon "will take the lead and be the main spokesman on all matters which are of principal concern to South Vietnam."

Before Saigon was willing to end its boycott it became necessary for the United States to issue publicly the series of assurances.

Farm City Week was observed at the regular Kiwanis Club meeting Tuesday, held at the Town and Country Restaurant. Kiwanian Autry Wilson, Chairman for Farm City week presided and introduced to the club, Ned Purdie who in turn presented Arch Smith, prominent farmer and cattleman of Texarkana and Garland City. Mr. Smith's program regarding the problems of the agricultural industry and the challenging future was very interesting and enjoyed by approximately 94 Kiwanians and their guests. B.N. Holt of the Chamber of Commerce awarded the Hope Star's Farm Family of the Year plaque to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arnold.

same period in 1967, when a total of 11 persons had died in traffic accidents. Captain Mosier stated that even though the fatality count is low in Miller county, that the saturation will help make the travelling public more aware of the importance of safe driving.

Captain Mosier said that the Department in July implemented into use special task force squads in an attempt to reduce the accident rate on Arkansas highways. The use of task force squads has proven successful to a point. Captain Mosier stated that the fatality rate in Arkansas is still running ahead of 1967 by some 39 deaths. Captain Mosier stated that since July the task force squad have consisted of 8 to 10 units being used in high accident areas. This has not enabled us to saturate high accident areas completely. Captain Mosier said that now the task force squads will consist of 40 patrol units. With this many units, we will be able to have complete saturation of a county.

Captain Mosier stated that troopers will hold roadblocks, at which time they will check for drivers licenses and equipment violations. While checking for these, troopers will be alert for any driver who has been indulging in intoxicants. Roadblocks and moving patrols will be concentrated in those areas that have a high accident rate and are in close proximity to roadside taverns.

Captain Mosier said the State Police airplane and Vascar unit will be used in saturation program. He explained that a Vascar is an electrical timing device, which is mounted inside the trooper's patrol unit. The Vascar unit works on the principle of distance and time equals speed.

In concluding, Captain Mosier said that it is not the Department's intention to inconvenience or harass anyone, but we hope that this program will act as a deterrent to violations of the traffic code. Self-discipline and compliance to traffic laws by all motorists would solve at least part of the accident problem on Arkansas highways. However, those violations who would willfully disregard traffic laws and endanger the lives of others on Arkansas highways, shall be dealt with in a fair but firm and impartial manner.

FRENCH FEAR

brought on last week's currency crisis.

He announced cutbacks in spending to account for more than half of the $1.07 billion saving, or about $668 million. These include $80 million from the military budget, $30 million from contributions to special industrial projects; $230 million from subsidies to such money-losing nationalized industries as coal, the railways, gas and power; $128 million from government loans and $100 million from administrative expenses.

The remaining $502 million deficit, the government hopes, will be taken care of by increased production, taxes and service rate hikes, but the premier did not go into details.

Increases in the added-value tax, an indirect sales tax which does not apply to exports, should help to divert production from the domestic to the foreign market and cut down imports by making them more expensive. Ballanger estimated it would also add $400 million a year to the government's revenues, but most of this will be offset by abolition of the 4.25 per cent payroll tax to lower the cost of export goods.

Courve de Murville said there would be no price freeze, but he promised "redoubled vigilance" to prevent "abusive" price rises. He said wage increases must be negotiated between management and labor at the level of local industry.

The military budget cut means cancellation of France's 1969 nuclear tests in the South Pacific. But a source high in government circles claimed it "would not greatly" retard President Charles de Gaulle's cherished nuclear weapons program because of "the especially good results" of the two hydrogen bomb tests this year.

Don't Rub It In

The Ohio Society for the Prevention of Blindness advises that you do not rub any speck or foreign body into the eye. Lift the upper eyelid over the lower lid and let tears wash out the particle. If it doesn't wash out, keep the eye closed with a light dressing and seek medical attention.

Rep. Mills

Discusses Key Items

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said Tuesday that the 91st Congress must face three items of great importance.

He said they were solving the Vietnam war, ever-increasing problems in fiscal affairs and the question of changing the electoral college system.

Mills, speaking at Hendrix College here, said he thought that as a result of the resumption of the Paris peace talks, the military aspects of the Vietnam conflict would be closed in the early part of 1969.

Julie Asking for Practical Wedding Gifts

NEW YORK (AP) — Julie Nixon, who has been asking all her friends for practical wedding gifts, received a pile of kitchen utensils, for a 20 year old brunette with sparkling eyes, greeted with delight her friends' attempts to put the practical gifts in original packages.

Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, the former first lady and grandmother of Julie's fiancé, David, sent a houseplant with bright red flowers and a shiny copper cooking utensil hanging from every branch.

Linda Labarre, a bridesmaid, from Glen Rock, N.J., constructed a model "bride" out of a garbage pail, a broom, a mop, a dustpan, a brand new sheet and other household items.

"Julie had asked me for a mop," Linda said, "and I told her she would get one, but not what she expected. She was really surprised."

Linda said Julie plans to do all her own housework at the couple's spacious new apartment in Northampton, Mass. Both husband and wife will attend classes at nearby Amherst and Smith colleges next semester.

But not all the presents at the shower, held last weekend in the East Side apartment of Mrs. Elmer H. Bobst, were so domestic.

Julie received an entire outfit by Emilio Pucci, the superchic Italian designer. And Mrs. Helen Clay Frick, daughter of the late Henry Clay Frick of the Frick Collection, gave the bride a black tray inlaid with gold pictures of all 36 men who have been elected President, including David's grandfather and Julie's father.

The finger created a sensation," said Linda, "but I'll tell you that none of it was seen through."

The shower was followed by a formal dinner dance at the Waldorf Towers apartment of Mrs. Edwin I. Hilson, widow of the investment banker. No further prewedding festivities are planned for the immediate future, but Linda predicted at least one more shower before the Dec. 22 wedding.

MR. & MRS. WILLIAM EUGENE LANGSTON

Miss Sharon Ann Almond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Almond of Prescott, and William Eugene Langston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Langston of Emmet, were united in marriage Saturday, October 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the Morris Baptist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Johnny Walraven before an altar decorated with a basket of white gladioli and pom mums. Two white candles were on each side of the altar.

Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Lifton Cearley and Mrs. Don Henson, cousin of the bride. Mrs. Henson sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "I Love You Truly". Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of pearly white with embroidered chantilly lace medallions. Her floor length train was attached at the shoulders. The elbow length veil was attached to a head piece of crystals and lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of gamellias, frenched mums and polished ivy. The bride's only jewelry was a strand of pearls and earrings, a gift of the bride's mother and aunt. The bride carried out the traditional "something old, new, borrowed, blue and a six pence in her shoe. Jane Lee served the bride as maid of honor. Jean Almond sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid. Their dresses were identical, made of red velvet with lily points. Their veils were of red velvet bows with red net. They carried a bouquet of white carnations with a red candle in the center.

Serving as best man was Bill Callicott. Groomsman was Mike Rhodes. Ushers, who also served as candlelighters, were Larry Langston, brother of the groom, and Jackie Glass.

Guests were registered as they entered the church by Miss Janis Johnson.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It is probably only a coincidence that CBS evolved a bimonthly magazine-type show for its weekly news hour after the experience last season of the trail-blazing PBL.

No matter who gets the credit for the idea, one can only be grateful, for there is a place for such a show. News stories, features and even interviews can't always be fitted comfortably into 30 or 60 minute segments—the usual time allotted to actuality specials—and we have all had uncomfortable minutes while a program dragged on to accommodate a final commercial when it should have been terminated minutes earlier.

At any rate, "60 Minutes" on Tuesday night, the fifth in the CBS series, was an absorbing program which covered four subjects during the hour, each with merits of its own.

The show opened with an informal interview—apparently a sharply edited tape recording—with Sen. Edmund S. Muskie. He ranged from a post-mortem on the recent election to a discussion of the importance of a loyal opposition and of frank dissent.

The second—and longest—feature took up color discrimination in the British Isles. The subject was timely because an English antidiscrimination bill went through similarities between the American and British problems were striking, the commentator thoughtfully permitted the viewer to make his own comparisons. The piece however, may have been overly long, and inspected the life and complaints of a Pakistani family, an Indian physician in England.

The Pakistan and Indian men discussed their problems of finding suitable work and their housing problems. One of the men told of moving into a white neighborhood whereupon his next door neighbor sold out and the bride, served the cake. Johnnie Sue Glass, cousin of the bride, served the punch. Miss Sue Langston, sister of the groom, handed out rice bags.

For travel the bride chose a pink dress with black accessories. She pinned the gamellia from her bouquet at her shoulder. The couple is at home in the Gee Apartments in Prescott.

moved. The physician summed up the English attitude this way: "The Englishman has no color prejudice—as long as you don't get too close to him..."

Then followed a frank discussion of the Pope and the pill, a lively exchange among Jacqueline Grennan, a former nun who is now president of Webster College, five of her students and one alumna, several of them married, most of them Roman Catholic and all with strong opinions which once would have had difficulty getting on the air.

Finally, like a dessert soufflé, cohost Harry Reasoner dined with New York Times food writer Craig Claiborne in a "moderate-to-expensive" New York restaurant—$40 for dinner for two including wine and cocktails—and discussed what Reasoner described as "the growth of gourmetry" in this country.

Reasoner had a tendency to act as if his previous dining out experience had been confined to cafeterias and questioned Claiborne on elementary rules of etiquette, but the writer carried on resolutely anyway, covering subjects ranging from the superiority of New York state veal to the mandatory "breathing time" of red wine before pouring, to the arrogance of restaurateurs. It was a refreshing, off-beat windup.

"PBL" during its growing pains had a tendency to take itself terribly seriously, to experiment more and weight its long shows on the intellectual and political side. "60 Minutes," coming out of an established news operation, seems to produce a better mix and a smoother show.

Nugent Back to War Zone

HONOLULU (AP) — Luci Johnson Nugent fought back tears Tuesday as her husband, Airman 1.C. Patrick J. Nugent, 25, boarded a jet with about 100 other servicemen flying back to Saigon.

"It's been perfect," said the 21-year-old daughter of the President, referring to the six-day reunion with her husband.

"That's an understatement," he replied.

The couple's 17-month-old son, Lynn, was left with babysitters as they said final goodbyes at the governor's lounge at International Airport for about an hour before Nugent's plane left.

Although today bagpipes are associated with Scotland, Persia had them in ancient times.

College Head Quits Because of Strife

By JAMES BOW
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Blaming pressures from trustees, faculty, militant students and "political forces," Robert R. Smith abruptly ended his six-month term as president of embattled San Francisco State College.

Gov. Ronald Reagan and other trustees of California's 19-campus college system unanimously accepted Smith's resignation Tuesday and named Prof. S.I. Hayakawa, internationally known semanticist, as acting president.

Reagan, college leaders and Hayakawa expressed doubts that the overnight change in presidents would be enough to pacify protesting students and bring the campus back to normal soon.

"Hayakawa will go out faster than Smith," Prof. Nathan Hare, Negro coordinator of the San Francisco State black studies program, said in San Francisco.

"I can say without hesitation," Reagan said, Smith's resignation "was not requested."

Black and ethnic studies programs and other demands from campus minority group students have been the focal point of demonstrations, a student strike and intermittent violence that kept San Francisco State's classes closed for most of the past three weeks.

The campus has 18,000 students and about 1,100 faculty members.

One demand calls for reinstatement of Black Panther George Murray, a part-time English instructor suspended by the college system's Chancellor Glen S. Dunke, early this month. Murray is being investigated by campus officials for reported remarks in speeches, such as urging Negro students to carry guns on campus.

Smith also cited "desperate limitations in financial resources" as one reason for his request to return to work as an education professor.

Smith said one reason for his resignation was "inability to reconcile effectively the conflicts between the trustees and chancellor, the faculty groups on campus, the militant student groups and political forces of the state."

Smith had agreed to discussion of the issues during campus-wide convocations which succeeded classes, although trustees had ordered normal campus routine resumed following a shutdown Nov. 13-20.

Hayakawa ordered the convocations ended Tuesday night. But he said he didn't know if classes would resume as planned Monday.

West opened the king of spades and continued with the ace and deuce. East ruffed and the student playing the hand overruffed. He led a club to dummy's king and noted that East played the eight of diamonds.

The student thought things over, then proceeded to ruff dummy's last spade. Next he pulled West's last trump and played dummy's ace and jack of diamonds.

East was in with the queen and the student showed his hand to go down one trick.

"Where did you dig up that jump to game?" he asked the Professor, who was sitting North. "I had to work out an end play to be sure to go down only one."

"It was a nice end play," said the Professor. "I am glad to see that you have progressed to the point where you can both work end plays and blame your partner for your mistakes. Apart from the fact that your hand was a trifle too weak for a vulnerable three-club bid, your play fell short of the optimum. You should have made your contract."

"I see that the heart finesse was on but how could I avoid the loss of a diamond?" asked the student.

"Easy," said the Professor. "A diamond shift at trick two would have beaten you, but once the third spade was played you had an automatic squeeze for your contract."

"Take the heart finesse. When that wins, cash the ace of diamonds. Then run all your trumps but one. Dummy's last three cards are the spade nine, and the ace and nine of hearts. You hold a trump, a small heart and the 10 of diamonds. Now play your last trump. West has to keep a spade higher than dummy's nine, so he played a heart. You discard dummy's spade. East either must unguard his hearts or make your diamond 10 a winner."

ABA Saga Is Story of One Player

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The story of the American Basketball Association—1968 edition—is rapidly becoming the saga of one man... Rick Barry.

Barry, the league's top scorer, did it again Tuesday night leading his Oakland Oaks to a 121-108 victory over New Orleans.

In other ABA action, Denver trimmed Dallas 115-109 and Minnesota stopped Kentucky 119-108.

In National Basketball Association play, New York beat Los Angeles 104-100, Baltimore nipped Atlanta 102-99, Detroit walloped San Diego 134-120, Philadelphia defeated Phoenix 126-119 and Seattle shaded Chicago 99-98.

Barry, who led the rival NBA in scoring two years ago, before sitting out one season to play in the ABA, tossed in 35 points as the Oaks won their fifth straight and 14th in 16 starts. The furious getaway has enabled Oakland to move 5½ games ahead of Los Angeles in the Western Division.

Barry, who hit the Oaks first basket of the night, finished with 12 others and a perfect nine-of-nine from the foul line. He got help from Doug Moe, with 19 points. Jimmy Jones sparked the Bucks with 33 points.

The Oaks never trailed and the closest New Orleans could come was 80-76 late in the third period.

Denver got 34 points from Lonnie Wright and with six Rocketts in double figures.

Army Training in Russia Starts at 10

By JOHN WEYLAND
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — Military training in the Soviet Union now starts at the age of 10.

Schoolboys throughout the country are organized into squads, detachments and battalions. Under adult commanders they practice drill, firing, the use of gas masks, other military skills and rendering medical aid.

The program introduced by the Kremlin leadership is being widened this year. Marshal Ivan Bagranyan, the World War II hero who has charge, this month ordered Pioneer units which had not taken part before to do so in 1968-69.

Soviet children from 10 to 15 belong to the Pioneer organization, which provides group activities and Communist indoctrination.

Older boys get more sophisticated military training the last two years before being drafted at 18. The Kremlin decreed this in 1967, also reducing the draft age one year.

The defense minister, Marshal Andrei Grechko, explained that the Soviet Union was "taking all steps necessary to strengthen its defenses."

The Soviet Union dropped the schoolboy soldier program after World War II.

The boys' training units, even for the youngest, have their political commissars alongside the military commanders, just as in the Soviet armed forces. They also have their military newspapers and political information classes.

From the start boys are told how they should think and instilled with patriotic feelings.

One of their tasks as "young army-men," the term used here, is to visit sights associated with the heroes of communism in the Revolution and World War II. They are also introduced to servicemen and veterans, who tell them about great deeds done for the motherland.

On military holidays, of which there are many, the boys' units are inspected as they drill and march. Each has its own bugler and drummer. The "young army-men" wear their red Pioneer scarfs in lieu of a uniform, and the officers have insignia of stars like those of the regular branches of the service.

Competitions are held on the regional, provincial and republic levels to pick out the detachments which excel in military-like exercises. A final in June produces the winner for the country. This unit receives a big medal proclaiming "victor" to attach to its bundle.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

MALE CHANGE OF LIFE, OR LATTERDAY GIRLWATCHING? Dear Helen: My husband is acting strangely. He never did this before, but nowadays he watches women so much he actually forgets where he is.

When we go to a restaurant, he girlwatches more than he eats. At the drive-in movie, we park where he can see the women going to the candy stand, etc. He keeps after me to go to the shopping center with him, and then he wanders up and down the aisles, ogling. I have to call him several times before he pulls his eyes away.

At home he is often sweet and affectionate, but he usually pretends he is asleep when I come to bed. I know he isn't! He is also unpredictable. He flares up over nothing, and he wants his own way about little things that didn't used to matter.

Sometimes he makes me feel terrible, like I'm dumb and inadequate. Then he'll turn around and accuse me of flirting, if I even say one extra word to the butcher.

He's got me so confused I don't act normal, and then he tells me I'm going crazy.

We've been married almost 30 years and 27 of them were wonderful. Even our children ask what is happening. Could YOU tell me? — WIFE

Dear Wife: Your husband may be suffering from the male change of life, which hits some men hard, others not at all. Insist that he get a complete physical check-up, and clue your doctor in on his "symptoms." When you understand his fears and worries, you can discuss them with him—and this is half the battle.

You'll learn it isn't "change of life" he wants, but assurance he isn't on the skids. — H

Dear Helen: Our school bus driver is a grouchy, mean old buzzard who hates kids. He put three boys off the bus because he said they caused trouble. Our son was one of them. He told me they were just having fun, throwing a few things, etc. They walked home over a mile in the cold, and it's a wonder they didn't get pneumonia.

The next week my son was thrown off the bus for good. I called the school board and said our taxes pay the bus driver's salary and also for the bus, and my son has his rights. They gave me an exaggerated story of what he did, and told me he'd have to get to school on his own steam.

I said if the district won't transport him, he doesn't have to go to school, and the board says if I don't send him to school, they'll take it up with Child Welfare and get me in trouble as he is too young to quit.

What would you do? — IRRITATED AND MAD

Dear I and M: I'd stop talking "Rights!" and tell my son, "Start walking!"... Among many other things!

This kid needs a permissive mother like he needs a hole in his head. — H

Dear Helen: I have a ten-year-old problem. He is an old flame. We went steady, talked of marriage then broke up, and each married someone else.

Our children attend the same school and we go to the same synagogue. Lately we feel strangely attracted to one another. Is this the "ten year itch"? Or did we marry the wrong partners. — E.R.

Dear E: After a decade of child-raising, a gal can be "strangely attracted" to almost any man who sees her as a woman, not a tired mother. A second honeymoon — with your own husband — might be the thing you need. — H.

Harvard Back Named All Conference Named Star of the Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
FRANK Champi, the scrambling super-sub who brought Harvard from 16 points behind to a 29-29 deadlock with Yale in the whirlwind finish of The Game, was selected college football's Back of the Week today by The Associated Press.

Champi's heroics in the incredible comeback... the Crimson rallied for two touchdowns and a pair of two-point conversions in the last 42 seconds... overshadowed standout performances by Southern California's O.J. Simpson, Ohio State's Jim Ols, Oklahoma's Steve Owens, Houston's Paul Gipson last weekend.

The Harvard junior replaced starting quarterback George Lalich late in the first half with Yale ahead 22-0 and tossed a 15-yard touchdown pass to Bruce Freeman. But Yale moved out to a 29-13 lead before Champi swung into action again late in the final period.

With 42 seconds remaining, he hit Freeman with another 15-yard scoring pass. Harvard went for two points, made them and recovered the ensuing on-side kick. Champi's 13-yard run, a 15-yard penalty against Yale and fullback Gus Crim's 14-yard bolt put the ball on the six yard line as the Crimson raced the clock.

Champi lost two yards on the next play, then scrambled away from a swarm of would-be tacklers, eluded another as the gun went off and flipped a TD strike to Vic Gallo. He left the pocket again before hitting soph Pete Varney with the tying two-point pass, setting off a wild demonstration by the partisan Harvard crowd.

"He did a remarkable job under as great pressure as you can put on an athlete," said Harvard Coach John Yovlesin after the deadlock gave his team and Yale 8-0-1 finishes and a share of the Ivy League championship. "The last few plays were just musts. He had to do it... and he did."

Champi completed only six of 15 pass attempts, but five completions figures in the Harvard scoring drives.

Leroy Kelly Wraps Up Rushing Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy Kelly of Cleveland already has the National Football League rushing title just about wrapped up and he is closing in on the scoring crown.

With three games to go, Kelly has 1,017 yards rushing and his 14 touchdowns for 84 points leave him only four points behind Mike Clark of Dallas, the scoring leader.

NFL Selects Offensive Man of Week

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys can move within a half game of the Capitol Division title in the National Football League Thursday and the Philadelphia Eagles can back another step closer to that 0-14 record and a clear shot at O. J. Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner.

Oakland and Kansas City, tied for first in the American Football League's Western Division, will also be active on the holiday. The Raiders are at home to Buffalo, hoping that Kansas City may have run into trouble earlier in the day against Houston.

A loss for Houston would eliminate them in the Eastern Division and give the New York Jets their first crown.

Things ran close to form last week so we wound up with a 10-1-1 record on the day and 89-35-5 for the season. Let's try to make it a happy holiday: Picks are for Thursday's games only.

NFL
Dallas 34, Washington 14—Cowboys ran all over Redskins Nov. 17 at Washington 44-24. Don Meredith, held out of Sunday's game with damaged leg, due to play. Sonny Jurgensen listed as doubtful for Washington due to 103-degree temperature. If Dallas wins and New York loses at Cleveland Sunday it's all over in the Capitol Division.

Detroit 14, Philadelphia 9—both teams sick on offense. Mel Farr lost for season. Sam Baker's kicking still best bet for Philadelphia score. Ball-hungry Lions may feed on Norm Sneed's interceptions.

AFL
Kansas City 21, Houston 17—Chiefs had 26-7 lead on Oilers in Sept. 9 opener but had to hold on to win 26-21 when Pete Beathard got hot. Kansas City cannot afford a loss. A loss will be a knockout for Houston.

Oakland 30, Buffalo 7—Should be a romp for eager Raiders who want another piece of that Super Bowl cash. Oakland won first game, 48-6, at Buffalo, a disaster that cost Joe Collier his coaching job. Ed Rutkowski latest of quarterbacks for snake-bitten Bills.

Raiders Come Back With Five Straight

NEW YORK (AP) — When the Oakland Raiders lost two straight games last month, it seemed as if the Raiders might have lost their championship touch.

But in the five games since then, the Raiders have averaged 38 points and 500 yards a game. Needless to say, they won all five.

Now, according to statistics released today, Oakland leads the American Football League in offense with an average of 426.1 yards a game.

The New York Jets have the strongest defense, having allowed 247.9 yards a game. Houston is second best on defense, having permitted 258.1 a game, while Oakland is third at 272.3.

The Jets also are the best team against rushing, and Houston is tops against passing. Offensively the Raiders lead in both running and passing.

Goodness is the only investment that never fails.—Henry David Thoreau. American naturalist.

Houston Is New Leader Statistically

NEW YORK (AP) — The Houston Cougars' point factory, after turning out 100 points last Saturday against Tulsa, stands in fine working order to produce in fine working order to produce an offensive triple crown—scoring, rushing and total offense.

The Cougars will enter their game against Florida State Saturday night as college football's leader in those three categories, according to statistics released today by the National Collegiate Sports Service.

Houston jumped from fifth to first at 45 points a game, compared to 42.7 for runnerup Arizona State.

Houston's 576.1 rushing-passing yards per game appears good for that crown with Notre Dame, which plays top-ranked Southern California, a distant second at 511.3.

In rushing, the Cougars have rolled up 378.7 yards a game, far ahead of Texas, 343.4. Cincinnati appears the passing winner with a final 335.8 yards a game, while Arizona holds a narrow 9.4 to 9.8 points allowed lead over Alabama in scoring defense.

Wyoming leads in total defense with a final 206.8 total yards allowed per game, but runnerup Syracuse, 214.7, and Arizona, 216.8, have a chance.

Wyoming State is tops in rushing defense at 63.3, with Penn State second at 75.6.

California against arch enemy Notre Dame. On paper, O.J. Simpson and his Trojan supporting cast figure to win. However, on that great imponderable, "desire," the Hoople System gives the edge to the Irish.

We look for Ara Parseghian's boys to salvage a somewhat disappointing campaign by scoring a thrilling 28-22 victory—har-rumph!

Other traditional meetings, in which season records count for naught, feature: Army-Navy, Georgia Tech, Georgia Tech, Oklahoma State, Oklahoma State, Arizona State-Arizona, Mississippi State, and Miami vs. Florida.

In the annual Service classic at Philadelphia, I predict the Cadets will overpower the Middies, 27-22. And at Athens, Georgia, the host Bulldogs will run their record to 8-0-2 with a hard-fought 14-8 triumph over the Tech stalwarts—um-kumph!

In the other headline battles listed above, you may safely wager a sarsaparilla or two on Oklahoma, Arizona State, Mississippi and Miami to win!

The Turkey Day treats will be something special this year as Texas, Tulsa and Virginia Tech put on spectacular scoring shows to vanquish their opponents—hak-kaff!

Bradley Spurs Win Over the Lakers

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
"He's too slow, he can't shoot well enough, he's not strong enough. That's what you hear around the league."

Bill Van Breda Kolff had to be speaking with tongue in cheek because if anyone knows what Bill Bradley can and can't do, it's the coach of the Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association.

But Van Breda Kolff was having what little fun he could after Bradley, along with Phil Jackson and Walt Frazier, spurred the New York Knicks from 10 points down in the final minutes to a 104-100 victory over the Lakers Tuesday night.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Baltimore slipped by Atlanta 102-99 and Detroit held off San Diego 134-120 in a doubleheader at Baltimore. Philadelphia fought off host Phoenix 126-119 and Seattle nipped visiting Chicago 99-98.

In the American Basketball Association, Denver beat Dallas 115-109, Oakland tripped New Orleans 120-108 and Minnesota defeated Kentucky 119-108.

"I'm happy for him that he had a good game," said Van Breda Kolff, who coached the much-heralded Bradley through three sensational years at Princeton. But the two-time All-American has had trouble adjusting to the NBA.

"I've seen him three games this year and four last season in the pros and he hasn't been anything much before this. He hasn't been the Bradley I've seen. He's not of the accepted NBA mold of a one-on-one player. He's the kind you have to play WITH," Van Breda Kolff said.

Frazier and Jackson certainly got together with Bradley as Bradley and Jackson each hit seven points and Frazier four with numerous assists in a 20-4 tear that overcame a 94-84 deficit in the final five minutes.

Bradley, who finished with 15 points, and Frazier, who had 21, also helped the Knicks back from an earlier 64-48 deficit as they dealt the Western Division leading Lakers only their second loss in the last 12 games. Wilt Chamberlain had 23 points and 27 rebounds for Los Angeles.

Cale Teams Victorious Over Hope

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Unable to break into the win column on basketball's opening night at Jones Field House, the Hope Lady Cats and the "B" boys were defeated at the hands of the Cale Red Devils last night.

It's been several years since the Lady Cats have been able to win their season opener, and this time was no exception as the Hope girls suffered a 42-23 loss in the first game of the evening.

Jumping to an early lead, the Lady Cats' last margin was 5-4 with 5:42 left in the quarter. From there on Cale was able to capitalize on six turnovers and a good outside shooting game to lead 15-7 at the period's end.

Most crucial of all moments, though, were the opening minutes of the second segment in which Hope had eleven consecutive shots to rim the basket and come off. It took them over four minutes to muster a field goal, and Sandra Saltee scored the only two points for the Lady Cats in the entire quarter.

Trailing 23-9 at halftime, Hope took three more minutes into the third period to score again. However, this time the Ladies tried to get a bona fide comeback going and got as close as 27-16 before more turnovers increased the deficit once more.

Entering the final quarter Cale led 33-19, as the visitors were showing fine poise and determination on offense as well as on defense. Two quick baskets close the gap to 34-23 with 6:10 left, but in the next three minutes only two points were scored, those by Cale.

Lady Cat Coach Charlotte Gibson finally pulled her starters trailing 36-23 with 3:22 to play, and Cale scored six more before the end.

Saltee led the Lady Cats with 16 points, and Jo McKamie was far back with four. Dee Singleton added three points to round out the scoring, and guards Sharon East, Jenny Callicott, and Junanne Reynolds did a good job on defense. Mattie Almond canned 22 points and Margie Johnson 18 to pace the Red Devils.

In the final game last night the Cale Senior Boys led all the way to an easy 64-39 win over the Hope "B" squad. With a 9-4 record entering the game Cale had much more game experience, and it made a big difference.

Shooting at a rapid rate of 55 per cent Cale leaped out to a 20-6 margin at the quarter, and extended it to 30-12 before the Red Devils sent in some replacements.

Quickly Hope began munching away at the deficit, and by the half they had cut it to a 33-24 score.

However, Cale came back with their husses in the second half, and they outscored the Hope squad 21-9 while building up a 54-33 lead after three quarters.

With Hope Coach Durward Bouras substituting freely and using a full court press Cale became somewhat rattled but hung on for a 10-4 fourth period and the 64-39 final tally.

Freddy McManus led the "B" boys with 8 points, followed closely by Terry Turner's 7 and 6 from James Simmons and Johnny Johnson. Melvin Tidwell led Cale with 19 points, helped out by Doyle Glass with 11 and Perry Williams with 9.

Saturday night the Bobcats open their regular season at home with the Nashville Scrappers, with that one preceded by the Lady Cats against a strong Nashville team.

Monday afternoon the Hope Junior Girls opened their season with a convincing 37-27 win at Gordon with a strong second-half rally. The girls, expected to have a fine year, were led offensively by Betty Rodden's 22 points.

Malvern and Magnolia lock horns tomorrow afternoon in Malvern for the 4-AA championship, and this writer will try to make it up to see that one. Magnolia is 12-0 and Malvern 8-2-1, and they both already have won their respective divisions in 4-AA.

Remembering back to the Star's football edition in early September, one could recall this peerless prognosticator picking those same teams, Malvern and Magnolia, to win their sides.

Cal, Texas Figured for Wins

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Will No. 2 Southern California try hard-er? Has the Navy become obso-lete? What does Houston do for an encore?

The answers will be blowin' in the wind this weekend, when the last go-round of the college foot-ball season brings together tra-ditional foes on a dozen far-flung battlegrounds.

After a palate-tickling Thanksgiving Day card that in-cludes the annual Texas-Texas A&M shoot-em-up, the schedule markers will dish out such sea-son-closing Saturday fixtures as Notre Dame-Southern Califor-nia, Army-Navy and Auburn-Al-abama.

In between, keep an eye peeled on Tallahassee, Fla., where point-crazy Houston col-lides with flinging Florida State Friday night in a game that could throw the scoreboard out of whack.

After 2½ months of scientific experimentation in the grid-picking game, we've come to a conclusion: You can't win 'em all.

The season record is 176-130-15. Wait till next year!

The Picks:

THURSDAY

Texas over Texas A&M: The Longhorns are out to pick Cot-ton . . . and their "Full House" backfield should trump Aggie ace Ed Hargett.

Also: Virginia Tech over VMI; Tulsa over Wichita State; New Mexico State over Louisia-na Tech.

FRIDAY NIGHT

Florida State over Houston: The Cougars' 100-point binge against Tulsa is past history. And FSU has a defense to go with sensational Ron Sellers.

SATURDAY

Southern California over No-tre Dame: USC's looking for the shortest route back to the top and O.J. Simpson figures to find it . . . off tackle.

Army over Navy: The Sailors are still full of fight despite a long, rough voyage. But Army has the cannon . . . Chuck Jar-vis and Steve Lindell.

Alabama over Auburn: But putting the ball over Auburn's goal line isn't much easier than walking on water.

Florida over Miami: Alabama took three wind out of the Hurri-canes last week and the Gators olating federal laws against interstate travel or transportation in aid of racke-teering and conspiracy.

The maximum sentence upon conviction for each count is five years in prison and a $100,000 fine.

Neil J. Welch, special agent in charge of the Buffalo FBI of-fice, called the arrests "a major blow at the heart of organized gambling on the Niagara fron-tier. Those were the first arrests of consequence for some of these individuals in 20 years."

SATURDAY

Southern California over No-tre Dame: USC's looking for the shortest route back to the top and O.J. Simpson figures to find it . . . off tackle.

Army over Navy: The sailors are still full of fight despite a long, rough voyage. But Army has the cannon . . . Chuck Jar-vis and Steve Lindell.

Alabama over Auburn: But putting the ball over Auburn's goal line isn't much easier than walking on water.

Florida over Miami: Alabama took the wind out of the Hurri-canes last week and the Gators are primed for one big feed after a 5-3-1 crash diet.

Georgia over Georgia Tech: One more big bite for the Bulld-ogs before they get a sniff of Sugar.

Oklahoma over Oklahoma State: Steve Owens has a full head of steam and the Sooner defense is beginning to sizzle too.

Boston College over Holy Cross: Crusader end Bob Neary catches touchdown passes . . . and throws them too. But BC should score more often than Neary.

Arizona over Arizona State: The Wildcats can pounce on WAC title by avenging last year's 47-7 collapse against State.

And, elsewhere: California over Hawaii; Mississippi over Mississippi State; Tennessee over Vanderbilt; Memphis State over Louisville; Baylor over Rice; East Carolina over East Tennessee; Brigham Young over San Jose State; San Diego State over Utah State.

Dallas Likely to Go Nearer to Title

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — When Leroy Kelly completed a pass Sunday he was more excited than he was about going over the 1,000-yard mark in rushing for the third straight season.

Kelly had missed the receiver five times in his pro career before he finally hit Paul Warfield in a 34-yard touchdown play for Cleveland against the winless Philadelphia Eagles.

"I thought he was going to crank up and throw it out of the ball park," said Bill Nelsen, the Browns' quarterback.

The pass helped but it was Kelly's 108 yards in 20 carries, including touchdown runs of one and 36 yards that won him The Associated Press' nomination Wednesday as offensive player of the week in the National Football League.

Kelly, the leading rusher in the league, now has 1,017 yards and a good chance to top his career high of 1,205 yards last year when he won the title. It was the seventh time in 11 games that Kelly had gained over 100 yards and the 18th in his career.

John Brodie, the San Francisco quarterback, had himself quite a first half at Pittsburgh, completing 11 passes in a row and 12 of 13 in the half for 200 yards and two touchdowns. He wound up with 16 of 25 for the day and 282 yards in a 45-28 win. Roy Jefferson of the Steelers caught eight passes for 132 yards.

Earl Morrall also had a brilliant first half for the Baltimore Colts against Minnesota, hitting with 13 of 16 for 225 yards and two touchdowns. He ended the day with 17 of 24 in a 21-9 victory.

Zeke Bratkowski, starting for injured Bart Starr, led Green Bay past Washington by com-pleting 18 of 24 for 230 yards in a 27-7 win.

Despite some sensational scrambling by Fran Tarkenton of the New York Giants, the Los Angeles Rams finally won 24-21 on a 36-yard field goal by Bruce Gossett who had missed three earlier attempts.

As a side note, it might be in-teresting to observe that the leading pass catcher of the day in the NFL was Gary Ballman, the receiver who had been sus-pended by Coach Joe Kuharich of the Eagles during the week. Ballman caught nine in a losing effort against Cleveland.

Pro Teams Start Play on Thursday

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Jets hope to enjoy a championship dessert after their Thanksgiving Day feast of turkey and all the trim-mings.

The Jet players, along with their families, will be at Shea Stadium for their holiday feast and will be watching the Houston Oilers battle the Kansas City Chiefs at Kansas City on television.

Needless to say, they will be rooting for the Chiefs since a Kansas City victory will clinch the Eastern Division title in the American Football League for the Jets. The Jets assured them-selves of at least a tie for the title by beating San Diego last Sunday and can win by defeat-ing Miami this Sunday even if Houston upsets the Chiefs.

Houston at Kansas City is one of four pro games listed for Thursday. Buffalo is at Oak-land, also in the AFL, with Phil-adelphia at Detroit and Wash-ington at Dallas in two National League encounters.

All four will be nationally tele-vised in NBC AND CBS double-headers. The Philadelphia at Detroit clash at 12:15 p.m. EST is the first of the NFL doubleheader on the CBS-TV network. The Washington at Dallas game fol-lows at 6 p.m. EST.

Kansas City and Oakland are tied for the lead in the AFL Western Division at 9-2 and both are favored to beat Houston and Buffalo, respectively.

Kansas City beat Houston 26-21 in September and aims to re-peal. Houston pins its slim hopes of tying the Jets on the throwing of quarterback Pete Beathard. In contrast, the Buf-falo-Oakland game shapes up as a romp for Oakland.

Dallas, 9-2, can virtually wrap up the Capitol Division title in the NFL's Eastern Conference with a victory over Washington, 4-7. The winless Philadelphia Eagles, 0-11, figure to lose their 12th straight against Detroit.

Nine games on Sunday wind up this week's pro schedule. In the NFL, Atlanta is at Balti-more, St. Louis at Pittsburgh, Green Bay at San Francisco, Los Angeles at Minnesota, New York at Cleveland and Chicago at New Orleans.

Miami is at New York, Cincin-nati at Boston and San Diego at Denver in the AFL.

Anderson, Hart Lead the AIC

LITTLE ROCK (AP)

Henderson's Tommy Hart and Arkansas Tech's Leon Ander-son are the Arkansas Inter-collegiate Conference's top yardage markers.

Hart, a junior quarterback from Benton who'll guide the AIC All-Stars against Tech Saturday, grabbed the rushing total offense and scoring crowns.

Anderson, a senior quarter-back from Atkins, topped all passers.

Hart picked up 987 yards rushing, had 1,062 passing and scored 15 touchdowns. Ander-son, in leading Tech to the league title, hit on 96 of 201 passes for 1,275 yards and 13 touchdowns.

Ouachita end Doug Freeze led the pass receivers with 44 receptions for 558 yards. Henderson's Arky Floyd led the punt returners with a 14.8 average.

Bill Nelson of Tech led the kickoff returners with a 33.8 mark. Wonder Boy R. E. Hodges led the league in inter-ceptions with 10, and Dickie Dunn of Arkansas A&M was the leading punter with a 42.4 average.

Here is a hand played some years ago by Charles Solomon of Philadelphia. During the course of a long and distinguished bridge career, Charley has won just about every tournament and in addition has been president of both the American Contract Bridge League and the World Bridge Federation.

North's jump to three spades was a deliberate overbid. It effectively kept East out of the bidding and Charley decided that his hand was worth a game try.

West opened the ace of hearts and continued with the 10. Most players would have gone up with dummy's king whereupon East would have trumped. Then East would have decided that his partner's 10 spot lead was a suit preference signal calling for the lowest suit and returned a club. There would be no way to avoid losing a club and another heart.

Charley found a simple way to make sure of his contract. He just let the 10 of hearts hold. He would have looked sort of silly had East produced the queen or jack and continued by giving West a heart ruff, but he would look silly on his way to the bank since all he

Four Tests Available On Thyroid Function

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is meant by high or low metabolism?

A—Metabolism is the continuing process of breaking down and replacing body tissues. When it occurs at a high or accelerated rate, the usual cause is an overactive thyroid.

Q—To determine the condition of one's thyroid, is it necessary to enter the hospital for a metabolism test?

A—Four tests of thyroid function have almost completely supplanted the old basal metabolic rate. They are the protein-bound iodine level of your blood, the photomicrogram, the radioactive iodine uptake and the triiodothyronine uptake. These tests can be done in an outpatient department.

Q—What can be done for an overactive thyroid?

A—Several drugs that suppress thyroid activity are available but they are useful chiefly to get a patient in good physical condition for surgical removal of a part (usually about 6/7) of the thyroid since this operation gives the best chance for lasting (not necessarily permanent) improvement.

Q—Should medication be prescribed following a thyroid operation to prevent recurrence?

A—Not routinely. There is a thin dividing line between the removal of too much or too little of the gland. If too much is removed, thyroid extract must be given and, if too little, a thyroid suppressant is required.

Q—I had an operation for an overactive thyroid in December 1967. I took thyroid pills for a while, then I stopped. Now I have palpitation, I am always sleepy and my vision is blurred. Could this be because I stopped taking the thyroid

A—Toxic thyroid does not predispose to cancer.

Q—After a thyroid operation, is it still possible to get pregnant?

A—Yes, unless there is some other reason for a failure to conceive.

Letters To The Editor

This is your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P. O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801. All letters must be signed, with address, so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address. Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

COUNTY ROADS

Editor The Star: The letters printed on Nov. 20 and 22nd should bring to public view, just what sad shape our county roads are in.

We in the Oak Grove and Shover Springs Communities can only join the others in a plea for better and safer roads. After the slightest rain, our roads are almost impassable. There have been, phone calls to the County Office and also members of these communities have been to the judge and asked him to please do something about them. Promises have been made, but have not been kept, because so far absolutely nothing has been done. The school bus has to travel these roads, plus the fact that there are two churches in the communities and the members also must travel them.

When I talked to Judge Odom a week ago, he told me that the reason they couldn't do anything was because the men were off to go deer hunting. I have nothing against deer hunting, but deer season is only in effect two weeks out of the year. What has happened to the other 50 weeks?

Where do we turn to to try and get something done about our roads? We only want them in good enough shape that they aren't dangerous to try to get to and from our homes. Evidently it is in vain trying to get the County to do something.

Sincerely,
MRS. JIMMY GUILLIAMS

Morton Says Nixon Asks Him to Serve

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Maryland Rep. Rogers C.B. Morton said Tuesday night he had been approached by President-elect Richard M. Nixon to serve in the Nixon administration.

Informed sources said Morton had been offered a Cabinet-level post and there was every indication that Morton would accept.

Morton, who just won his fourth term from Maryland's 1st Congressional District, was Nixon's floor manager at the Republican National Convention in Miami.

He was named Tuesday night as his party's candidate for governor to fill the unexpired term of Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew but since the legislature will choose Agnew's successor, and there are 152 Democrats and only 33 Republican lawmakers, the choice was mainly honorary.

Home Grown Turkeys for Arkansans

By TOMMY YATES
Associated Press Writer
NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

When Arkansas families sit down this Thanksgiving and Christmas to feast on a turkey, more than likely it will be one raised in Arkansas with the help of a computer.

That doesn't mean the turkey will taste differently, of course, unless for the better, because the Mountaire Poultry Co. of North Little Rock has been using a computer system to plan the menus for turkeys the past two years.

Earl Whitaker, director of nutrition and quality control at the firm's production plant here, said the computer-prescribed diet "takes away the guesswork and reduces errors in blending turkey feed."

The computer-planned menu is an idea born for economic reasons because it allows the plant to use the most economic feed at the time in the turkey's diet.

For instance, Whitaker explained, if the price of a high protein grain should jump considerably in price, then the computer can say in a matter of minutes how much of a lower priced and lower protein feed should be used.

Whitaker said he could do the same thing but that it would take him much longer, plus run the possibility of making a human error.

"This enables us to produce a quality product as economically as possible," he said. "We are extremely pleased with the results."

Whitaker said it takes about 24 weeks to produce a 28-pound turkey and that the diet requirements will change about six times during this time. He said the diet is based on the turkey's age because as it gets older it needs less protein, and when the turkey gets close to the desired weight, the diet changes from high protein to high energy.

If the diet is based on age, then why couldn't the computer deliver various formulas at various age levels only once? Whitaker said it probably could be done this way except for such things as a change in environment. He said the turkeys "finished off in the summer require a different feed than in the winter time." And he said new scientific research material is always being fed the computer.

Whitaker outlines the basic nutritional requirements of the company's poultry, then the computer selects the ingredients needed to meet them.

Throughout the process of planning turkey diets, the computer must develop food formulas in which the ingredients will mix together into solid pellet form, he said.

Mountaire has the capacity of producing 26 million pounds of broilers, too. Last year it processed eight million live pounds of turkeys, which worked out to six and a half million pounds put on the table.

No Pumpkin Pie Now at Mayle Home

KNOTTSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — When Juanita Mayle makes pumpkin pies for her family's Thanksgiving dinner she makes 15 at a time. She's not making any today.

Juanita's husband, Hartzell Mayle, 51, is one of 78 miners trapped since last Wednesday in the burning Mountaineer Coal Co. No. 9 mine.

She is among those who believe he will be found alive.

"I've been with him ever since he's been down there," she said, her brown eyes reddened by tears. "And you know what? He's worried about us. That's the kind of man he is."

Mr. and Mrs. Mayle have 11 children.

Their ages range from the twins, Cindy Sue and Linda Lou who are 4, to Siana, who is 25. There are eight girls and eight boys.

"I have such a wonderful family," the 46-year-old woman said, managing a faint smile. "We are lucky to be as well off as we are."

The Mayles moved to their 56-acre Taylor County farm four years ago when "we didn't know the difference between a cucumber and a pepper," she said. They learned fast enough and now raise chickens, pigs and corn.

Since the explosion, a friend started a drive to keep the Mayles in groceries but it takes a lot to feed 16 children.

"I make four gallons of vegetable soup and it's gone in a day," she said, adding that the family also goes through six pounds of spaghetti at one sitting and two turkeys at another. Her life hasn't been the same since the explosion.

Jim Sullivan of the Richmond Roadrunners packs the only reliable weapon against long-gainers — a trusty Thompson sub-machine gun.

The penal authorities in Missouri also put their faith in Thompson and they've hired Sullivan to fire one at any breakaway threats in the Jefferson City prison.

The Roadrunners have hired Sullivan to prevent gains in a more sporting manner and he's almost as dangerous from his tackle slot as he is from his watch tower.

Such occupational violence seems foreign to the nature of this strong, silent type from Fulton (pop. 306) Arkansas.

"I just like sports," said Sullivan, presumably referring to his work in the outside world. "I'm at the prison nights while I finish school (Lincoln, Mo. University)."

The well-muscled 240-pounder has a year behind him at the Jeff City brig, but it was a slow year. "I didn't even press my buzzer," he reported.

Activating the ear-splitting buzzer, it developed, is step two in determining a prisoner's premature exit.

"If anything happens we're told to train our spotlight on the man first and then press the buzzer," said Sullivan.

"But what if that didn't stop him?" anxiously asked a reporter who had seen one too many late shows. "Cut him down," replied Sullivan matter-of-factly.

To hear Sullivan tell it, the most harrowing possibility is falling asleep at one's station. "We're supposed to scan the yard once every 10 minutes with the light. If you're caught sleeping you're through," he explained.

Sullivan has brought his alertness to Richmond, which has his services courtesy of the New Orleans Saints. He's one of five members of the Saints' taxi-squad members with the Atlantic Coast League team.

In last Saturday's sour showing against Westchester, Sullivan was a plus factor. He dropped quarterback Bill Creeden three times for losses.

"That's a good night for a defensive tackle," observed Richmond coach Dick James. "Jim's got excellent speed for his size and has done a nice job for us all along."

Sullivan feels he's still learning the arts of pass rushing and play reading. "Bob Taucher and Doug McNeill have helped me quite a bit," he said.

"To get a good pass rush,

Wednesday, November 27, 1968

you've got to get a rolling start off your stance," he related. "You run all out, try to beat the blocker with a fake of a forearm" and then bring both hands down on the quarterback's shoulders.

The rangy far boy came here thinking the ACL was a "risky-dink" league, but soon changed his views.

"They're a little bigger in the majors and when they make a move it's right on the button," he said.

"But I think some of the fellows in this league are actually better than people in the majors," added Sullivan, who cited Taucher, another New Orleans product, as an example. "He can block with anybody."

Unfortunately an injury will sideline Taucher for Saturday's game here with Pottstown, but Sullivan will be in there upholding the honor of the cab squad.

Alex. H. Washburn
2 of 3 Agree to
Quit Clobbering
Space for Stamp

Here it is Thanksgiving Eve — and your editor who is always attempting to reform other folks seems beyond reform himself. Right when I should be giving thanks I find myself giving others a hard time.

Currently your editor is putting pressure on corporate business houses and governmental agencies who send out return-addressed envelopes to quit clobbering up an envelope's upper righthand corner with the idiotic printed message "Place Stamp Here."

Like many business firms and governmental agencies (including the Post Office Department itself) The Star leases a postage meter, whose operation is easier and faster than the business of licking stamps. But the meter's postage imprint is illegible when the corner of the envelope reserved for a stamp is already filled with type. So you have to make the meter's imprint on gummed tape and paste the tape on the envelope — putting you back in the business of licking stamps.

We opened our campaign in The Star of Oct. 17, naming three clobberers of the stamp space: Arkansas State Revenue Department, Little Rock, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co's Hot Springs district office, and the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, Washington, D.C.

On Oct. 25 we published a memorandum from State Revenue Commissioner B. Bryan Larey advising that Arkansas acknowledges the complaint is justified and the state's envelopes will be reformed.

Yesterday, Nov. 26, I received the following memorandum from Jack L. Bayles, Camden manager, acting for the Hot Springs district office of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.:

"The commercial operations engineer has agreed to omit the words 'Place Stamp Here' from the return envelopes sent without customer bills. This change will be made when the present supply is exhausted and accounting will start sending the revised envelope at that time. We understand that they have several months' supply on hand and the expense of throwing these out is not advisable."

Thanks, Southwestern Bell is on the line — in writing.

Two down — and one to go!

The third one is supposed to be a toughie — the Internal Revenue Service. On Nov. 13 I published an IRS Washington advisory inviting me to buy a kite and go fly it.

But I've got news for them. On Nov. 15 I filed a complaint with the Post Office Department in Washington. And if you know this newspaper you know we'll get some action either within the Post Office Department or outside it. If I get no answer, or an unsatisfactory one, within a reasonable time then I'll forward my complete file to Congressman John Paul Hammerschmidt and request a congressional inquiry.

Here's my letter to the Post Office Department:

Nov. 15, 1968
Post Office Department
Headquarters Office
Washington, D. C. 20260
Dear Sirs:

I am inquiring as a private citizen whether anything can be done to stop the practice of cluttering up the top righthand corner of return-addressed envelopes with the printed message: "Place Stamp Here."

The presence of type in this particular spot defeats the whole purpose of a postage meter, whose imprinted postage becomes illegible — therefore requiring the office mail dispatcher to print on a gummed tape and paste this over the printed legend, i.e., reverting to the conventional postage stamp which the meter is supposed to eliminate.

$40 Million to Be Spent Teaching Folks How to Control Rats

By DICK BARNES

WASHINGTON (AP) — A year after a chastised Congress authorized $40 million for rat control, not a single dollar has been spent.

The Public Health Service hopes it will soon get Bureau of the Budget approval to start shipping perhaps $15 million to some of the 47 units of local government which have applied for rat money.

But even if approval comes, the money won't directly exterminate a single rat. Instead it will finance projects designed to teach slum dwellers how to store garbage, get rid of rat harborage and so forth.

The Arkansas State Police today announced an all-out saturation program for high accident areas in southwest Arkansas. Captain Milton Mosier, Troop Commander for the Hope District, announced the program today.

Captain Mosier said that the saturation program will begin Friday, and continue through early Sunday morning. The countries selected to be patrolled during the saturation program were selected on the basis of traffic volume and traffic fatalities.

Hempstead county, being the deadliest county in southwest Arkansas, and Miller county, being the highest traffic volume county in southwest Arkansas, were selected by Captain Mosier for the saturation program.

Captain Mosier said that Hempstead county has had 15 traffic fatalities in 1968 as compared to one traffic fatality for the same period in 1967. Miller county has had six fewer fatalities in 1968 than for the

French Fear DeGaulle Plan Not Enough

By JOHN VINOCUR
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — Some French businessmen said today President Charles de Gaulle's austerity program to save the franc isn't austere enough, but a Communist complaint indicated opposition from the working man to an estimated $400 million increase in indirect sales taxes.

Financial sources expressed low-key disappointment at the "mildness" of the belt-tightening measures outlined in the National Assembly Tuesday by Premier Maurice Couve de Murville.

Robert Ballanger, the Communist floor leader, charged that the program "threatens the future of the workers." He declared:

"Once again the government gives fiscal aid to business while making the consumers pay 2 billion francs more in value-added taxes," he declared.

Couve de Murville told the National Assembly the 1969 budget deficit will be cut from $2.31 billion to $1.27 billion to strengthen the economy, expand production and protect the franc from the speculation that

HHH Trying for Pheasant

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, accompanied by his two sons, flew here today and said he was going to try and shoot his own Thanksgiving dinner — pheasant, instead of the traditional turkey.

The Humphreys were the guests of James P. Wilmot, president of a Rochester real estate development firm. The group will hunt on Wilmot's private game preserve in the near-by town of Mendon, a press aide said.

Following the hunt, the Humphreys will return to the vice president's home in Waverly, Minn., to celebrate the Thanksgiving holiday.

85 Enemy Workers Arrested

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese police have arrested 85 Viet Cong political workers in Saigon during a two-week-old roundup to crush an emerging Communist political apparatus in the capital, a highly placed police source said today.

The source said 15 of the 85 "communist cadre" were women and that all of those arrested had criminal pro-Communist records. Most of them were longtime residents of Saigon, he added.

The roundup began Nov. 11 and is still going on. The source said it began with the arrest of a senior Communist lieutenant who tipped off police to 16 Viet Cong cells within the city.

The citywide hunt also has netted 14 Chinese pistols, a number of mines, grenades and plastic explosives, the source reported.

The South Vietnamese arm of North Vietnam's Communist party is known to be creating a grass-roots government across South Vietnam, apparently in anticipation of an end to the Vietnam war. American intelligence confirms the quasigovernment already exists throughout five provinces and in more than 1,000 villages and hamlets. Communist documents claim the existence of "liberation councils" in two of Saigon's nine precincts, but U.S. officials say the councils exist only on paper.

Only scattered ground fighting was reported in South Vietnam today.

A U.S. Marine force that had gone into the demilitarized zone for the first time since the bombing of North Vietnam halted Nov. 1 pulled out by nightfall Tuesday, without suffering a casualty in several hours of fighting, the U.S. Command said.

The headquarters said the North Vietnamese troops escaped from the Marines. The Leathernecks reported hearing screams of enemy soldiers apparently wounded by artillery and air strikes, but no bodies were found.

South Vietnamese Headquarters indicated that a reconnaissance force it had sent into the DMZ also pulled out by nightfall Tuesday after a brief clash in which three enemy soldiers were killed. The South Vietnamese reported a brief fight Tuesday night southwest of Glo Linh, about four miles below the DMZ. Three enemy soldiers were reported killed, one prisoner was captured, and three government men were wounded.

Bank Card Program Expanded

Charles Sharpe, Jr., officer in charge of the First National Bank's BankAmericard program, announced today that the Arkansas Motor Hotel Association and the Arkansas Restaurant Assn. this week began honoring BankAmericard, the International credit card plan. The two organizations represent more than 800 businesses.

Sharpe said three Arkansas banks were involved in setting up the credit card arrangement: Arkansas First National Bank of Hot Springs, City National Bank of Ft. Smith and Simmons First National Bank of Pine Bluff. Other Arkansas banks that are in the BankAmericard organization will handle the credit card system.

Westmoreland Gets Medal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland, former allied commander in Vietnam, is the 21st American to receive the Union League's gold medal.

The U.S. Army chief of staff said at the award ceremony the enemy in South Vietnam might employ "fight-talk-fight" tactics during the Paris peace negotiations.

"But I can assure you," he added, "we are in a position of undeniable strength on the battlefield."

Serious Peace Talks Expected to Be At Least a Month Away

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials expect it will be some time late next month before serious peace talks begin in Paris even though Saigon has agreed to end its boycott in return for the right to head bargaining on South Vietnamese internal matters.

An end to the 27-day boycott of expanded talks by South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Van Thieu was announced Tuesday night in Washington and Saigon. U.S. officials said the Saigon delegation, expected to be led by Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, is due to leave for Paris by

Farm Group Supports Tax Hikes

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation Tuesday plowed through about 100 policy-decision fields as the delegates brought their 34th annual convention to a close.

The delegates voted to support tax increases on alcoholic beverages, cigarettes and soft drinks and to support a one-cent increase in the sales tax.

In the tax policy, the convention excluded taxes on soft drinks containing substantial amounts of natural fruit juices.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has recommended a one-cent sales tax increase, plus other tax increases if he is to push through his program next year.

The delegates opposed any proposed gun control legislation, creation of a commissioner of agriculture or a state agriculture department and any limitation on payments for price support loans or diversion payments.

The delegates also favored the proposed merger of Little Rock University with the University of Arkansas, and the election of the president and vice president by popular vote rather than through the electoral college system presently used.

The convention favored single member districts of the state legislature, 60-day legislative sessions every two

NLF Insists on 4 Party Peace Parley

PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong's National Liberation Front insisted today on a four-party Vietnam peace conference with the NLF participating "as an independent party on the same footing" as the United States, North Vietnam and the South Vietnamese government. NLF spokesman Duong Dinh Thiao rejected the U.S.-South Vietnamese statement Tuesday night that Washington and Saigon regarded the Paris conference as a two-sided meeting in which the NLF would be part of North Vietnam's delegation.

Although Thiao called for "an enlarged conference of four," one of which would be the South Vietnamese government, he said: "The presence of the Saigon administration at the conference in no way signifies recognition of this administration by the NLF," he added.

Declaring that "the Saigon administration represents no one," he renewed the Viet Cong contention that President Nguyen Van Thieu's government is a U.S. puppet, saying it was "set up by the United States as an instrument to carry out the American policy of aggression."

This was the first reaction from the Communist side to the announcement that Thieu has decided to send a mission to the new round of peace talks. Thieu's boycott has kept the conference suspended since Nov. 6.

Living Costs Shows Sharp Increase

By NEIL GILBRIDE

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs jumped six-tenths of one per cent in October for the biggest monthly rise in eight years and increasing 1968's sharpest rate of price hikes in 17 years, the government said today.

Clothing and transportation costs were up nine-tenths of one per cent each, food and housing up four-tenths each and medical care rose seven-tenths, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Clothing and transportation costs were up nine-tenths of one per cent each, food and housing up four-tenths each and medical care rose seven-tenths, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Asst. Commissioner Arnold Chase of the bureau said the over-all rise in living costs in 1968 "could very well be around 4.5 per cent for the year," highest since the 5.9 per cent rise in 1951 before Korean War price-wage controls were imposed.

But Chase said the rate of increase is expected to taper off and that the government sees no need for similar controls now.

The October increase brought the consumer price index to 122.9. This means it cost $12.29 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

The bureau also reported that the sharp rise in prices combined with a small reduction in the average work week, reduced the average purchasing power of the nation's approximately 45 million rural and farm workers.

The average gross paycheck last month was $110.87, down 20 cents from September. After taxes, purchasing power of the average paycheck was about the same as a year ago for single workers, and about 1.3 per cent higher for workers with three dependents.
